

Art Grading and Discipline Policy

All art assignments will have a maximum value of 10 points each. Occasional tests will also have a point value. Extra credit may be earned through additional projects and reports. At the end of each grading period the points will be tallied for a final letter grade. Since each student has a unique and personal artistic style, assignments will not be graded according to whether one student's work looks "better" than another. Points will be determined according to the following criteria:

Art Rubric

Objectives	0 points	1 point	2 points
Art work is neat, clean, and appropriate	Not evident	minimal attempt	Excellent presentation of quality, showable, finished product.
Instructions will be understood and applied.	Not evident	Some understanding evident	Directions clearly comprehended and put to use.
Work will be executed with a good effort.	Not evident	Satisfactory effort	Assignment has been carefully rendered to the best of student's ability.
The student will remain on task while working, without disturbing others.	Lack of interest, disruptive/ distracting behavior and/or disrespect.	Fair concentration, minimal disruptive/ distracting behavior.	Student has quietly concentrated on own work, showing respect for others and respect for property.
